

BlockchainIL Advisory

We consult, develop and fund blockchain early stage projects and existing companies from inception through ICO, and beyond.

ICO Advisory

We advise on all forms of token generation events whether its traditional ICOs or ongoing / liquid ICOs and specialise in various types of token structures including utility and security economies.

BlockchainIL provides advisory services for early-stage blockchain projects as well as existing companies seeking to successfully create decentralized economies. Our goal is to execute successful token generation events while reducing the immense uncertainty that comes

